PROJECT UPDATE

Upcoming Work

Metro Vancouver is replacing the Central Park Water Main to help ensure the continued delivery of high-quality drinking water well into the future. This new water main will meet growing regional demands, and is also designed to withstand major earthquakes. Central Park Water Main – Imperial Section Phase 1 extends along Imperial Street between MacPherson Avenue and Griffiths Avenue. Construction for this phase began in January 2025 and is expected to continue for the next two years.

The current work zone between Empress Avenue and Ashworth Avenue is nearly complete and will reopen once finished. Starting the week of March 17, crews will work between Sperling Avenue and Ashworth Avenue for approximately three weeks. Starting on March 28, crews will move to the next zone between Avenue and Griffiths Avenue, and along Griffiths Avenue between Imperial Street and Elwell Street for approximately three weeks.
