

FEEDBACK HIGHLIGHTS

Metro Vancouver's Coquitlam Water Main – City Centre Tunnel Section

Thank you for participating!

Metro Vancouver conducted a public comment period for the Coquitlam Water Main – City Centre Tunnel Section from February 29 to April 4, 2024. Thank you to everyone who took the time to learn about and provide feedback on this project. Your input is important to us and will be used to minimize construction impacts wherever possible.

As part of our engagement phase, we:

Conducted an online survey and received 150 complete responses

Held an in-person open house on March 13, 2024 with 44 attendees

About This Project

Metro Vancouver is constructing a new water main in Coquitlam to meet the growing demand for drinking water in the region. The City Centre Tunnel Section of the water main is approximately two kilometres long, and will be tunnelled between Guildford Way and Dewdney Trunk Road, under Coquitlam's downtown core and the west side of Port Coquitlam. Construction is expected to start in 2026.

What We Heard

Below are some of the key areas of interest that we heard from the local community during our public comment period:

Concerns about noise from overnight work and vibration during tunnelling

Requests to minimize traffic impacts such as delays, and maintain access to businesses and homes

Interest in restoration and tree replanting plans for the southeast corner of Town Centre Park including the Inspiration Garden

Requests to maintain safe and accessible detours for pedestrians and cyclists around the construction areas

We will report how we have incorporated your feedback as this project progresses. Stay tuned for more opportunities to get involved.
